Advertising that works

“I invest a significant percentage of my annual advertising budget in onCampus because it has proven to be a solid, result-producing investment. Its high readership rate, backed up by reliable data, ensures that my ads reach their target audience.”

— Sandi Rutkowski
Director of College Communications
OSU College of Biological Sciences

Advertising that works

“There are two good reasons to advertise in onCampus. The best access to the OSU community is one. The other is working with its friendly and efficient staff. They make the process enjoyable.”

— Paul Watkins
Manager
Student Book Exchange

Advertising that works

“Over the years, onCampus advertising has been an invaluable resource for informing all of OSU’s faculty and staff of our nearby location. The onCampus staff has made it easy for us to concentrate on dentistry instead of advertising.”

— Nicholas D. Schooley, D.D.S.

Advertising that works

“After many slow months of recruiting patients with posters and word of mouth, I decided to place an advertisement in onCampus for our bifocal contact lens study. I was overwhelmed by the response I received — 47 calls after two ad placements. onCampus is an effective and efficient way to reach a large, diverse population.”

— Kathryn Richdale, O.D.
OSU College of Optometry
